New Constituency Petition and Charter

1.0 Mission, Structure, and Principles

1.1 Reference to ICANN Bylaws

The Internationalized Domain Names Top Level Domain Constituency or IDNgTLD Constituency (hereinafter to be referred to as the IDNgTLDC) is proposed to be a part of the Generic Names Supporting Organization (GNSO) according to Article X (5) of the ICANN bylaws, which became effective on December 15, 2002.

1.2 Mission

The purpose of the IDNgTLD Constituency is to primarily represent the views and interests of those who have been and/or are engaged and/or intend to be involved in the advocacy, promotion, provision, implementation, deployment, popularization, research and development of non-Latin Internationalised Top Level Domain Names ("IDNgTLD", see definition in Note below) on the Internet.

This Constituency is further created to provide a formal voice and official representation in ICANN processes to for-profit and/or non-profit organizations, government agencies, research and educational institutions and individuals in their personal capacity, etc, that are engaged in or intend to be engaged in at least one of the following activities, namely, those that:

- a) serve IDNgTLD interests;
- b) provide services such as registry, registrar, multilingual web information and other Internet services for IDNgTLDs (i.e. non-LATIN IDN TLDs);
- c) involve research, development and education of non-LATIN IDNs and related Internet multilingualism;
- d) engage in community organization within non-LATIN language communities, and in the promotion of associated Internet multilingualism, e.g. promote public interest in IDNgTLDs in policy advocacy particularly in non-English and non-LATIN speaking communities; and
- e) promulgate human rights and the advancement of the Internet as a global communications system for the hitherto neglected segments of society, specifically, those non-English speaking or non-LATIN character writing communities

NOTE: For the purposes of this document and the proposed constituency, the term "IDNgTLD" shall be limited to only languages and scripts that do not use the LATIN Unicode set ("LATIN"). Thus it does not include languages and scripts that use Roman characters such as French, Indonesian, German, Afrikaans and ASCII (English). The rationale for such a limitation is that the needs of countries/communities that rely primarily on LATIN IDNs have already been adequately cared for by ICANN through the widespread availability of IDN.ASCII (as well as ASCII.ASCII) domain names in both the ccTLD and the gTLD sectors - e.g. <german>.de and <spanish>.com. Thus, IDNgTLD shall be so defined to exclude LATIN (n.b. Cyrillic and Greek for example are non-LATIN under Unicode and therefore fall under the IDNgTLD definition used here). Defined this way, of the 2008 World Population of some 6.5 billion humans, about 4 billion people need to be served by IDNgTLDs. Also of the 1.58 billion Internet users in 2008, about 720 Million users come from countries/communities that need to be more properly served by IDNgTLDs.

New Constituency Petition and Charter
